FREE COOKING SCHOOL STARTS TUESDAY

Atherton Asks Dry Law Zone; Backs School

Half-Mile Limit Near Menlo College Is Proposed

ATHERTON, April 30 Special to The Tribune).—Atherton's town council will officially request the State Board of Equalization and the San Mateo County Board of Supervisors to create a half mile dry zone around Menlo School and Menlo Junior College.

Following disclosures made to the council yesterday by Lowry S. Howard, president of the college, that five liquor establishments are open for business now, or preparing to open, in an area directly opposite his institution, the city fathers unanimously favored drafting resolutions to be sent to both the supervisors and state board.

Several of the liquor dealers formerly maintained stores and resorts in Menlo Park within the mile-and-a-half restricted zone under the jurisdiction of Stanford University, he said. Alex Beltramo, he pointed out, is moving his "Oasis", resort from 241 El Camino Real to a new location directly opposite the school.

"Boys come to Menlo Junior College from all over the world," President Howard continued. "A number of parents have talked to me within the past two weeks regarding the menace of these five resorts directly opposite the school. A half mile restricted zone will give us the protection we need."

EYRE SEES DANGER

Councilman Edward Eyre observed that the relocation of the liquor interests created a situation which, in his opinion, was more dangerous than if they were in Menlo Park.

Councilman James B. Howell concurred with him in this belief.

"Those five stores and resorts are opening up for business in a congested highway area. There are no facilities for parking and we are going to face increasing traffic hazards," Howell pointed out.

The liquor resorts and stores referred to are all located in an unincorporated "no-man's" zone between Menlo Park and Atherton. The junior college and school, located on the westerly side of El Camino Real, are within Atherton's town limits.

OUSTER BOARD POLICY

The proposed half-mile dry zone for Menlo Junior College would radiate from the dormitory buildings on the campus and would prevent the encroachment of liquor interests on the easterly side of El Camino Real from the northern boundary of Stanford's jurisdiction near the Menlo Goat Farm—to Atherton's town limits.

Howard quoted certain policies of the State Board of Equalization in giving legal standing to the council's action.

The board, he said, has already ruled against the issuance, or reissuance of liquor licenses, where dealers or resort owners are in close proximity to schools, hospitals and playgrounds.

Rule 3, section C, of the board's regulations, he pointed out, makes mandatory the enforcement of zoning ordinances creating half mile dry areas around institutions of this sort.

Buck Elected Planner Head

Beach Land Purchase Is Favored; Creek Project Scanned

Mayor C. A. Buck of Burlingame was elected chairman and Martin Poss vice chairman of the new San Mateo County Planning Commission at its organization meeting Tuesday.

Hugh Pomeroy was continued as advisor and Ronald Campbell as technician, the only two salaried positions controlled by the commission. Campbell was also named as secretary.

Besides the organization, the commission made a field trip over the Half Moon Bay beach project with Supervisor Manuel Francis and then decided to amend the previous action of the commission by recommending the acquisition of the beach north of Kelley avenue.

Supervisor Francis and Charles Meinert, commission member, suggested that the coastside beaches should be zoned to protect the public from undesirable waterfront structures and uses.

The commission also investigated the San Mateo creek parkway project and instructed the staff to proceed with the gathering of necessary information and preparation of plans for this project.

Future meetings of the commission will be held the third Friday of each month at 2 p. m it was decided.

COAST PEA CROP LOSS IS HEAVY

Flowers Also Suffer From Rains, Commissioner Reports

Loss of pea acreage on the coastside due to wet weather has totaled approximately 2,000 acres, the monthly report of County Agricultural Commissioner Max J. Leonard, filed with the board of supervisors today, revealed.

Serious disease conditions prevail in the flower fields in the north end of the county, Leonard said.

"Evidently the long drawn out wet spring has been to their disadvantage," the commissioner said. "There is little remedy to aid them except to replant."

Shipments of vegetables from the district consisted of 19 cars of cabbage and 16 cars of mixed broccoli, peas and sprouts. Shipments of flowers from San Mateo total 780 boxes. Gladiolus planting is on in full swing. Some 900,000 have already been set out, with another two and a half million to plant, Leonard said.

Damage from soil erosion in the Colma area has caused heavy losses to growers also, the commissioner reported, urging that some measure be taken to check "this rapid loss of fertile soil to conserve our agricultural acreage."

The soil, being loose and sandy, causes quick erosion during rainy periods, Leonard said.

Disease conditions among bees is improved over last year, Leonard stated.

The predatory animal hunter killed six coyotes with seven pups and five bob cats during the month.

Court Witness Pepper Victim

Shabbily Dressed Man Throws Cayenne At Dog Foe

SAN MATEO, May 1.—Less than 24 hours before her scheduled appearance in court to testify against Peder Pederson in his trial on a charge of keeping too many dogs at his home here, Mrs. C. W. Tousley was the victim of a cayenne pepper thrower at her home at 101 El Camino Real.

The incident, from which Mrs. Tousley suffered severe discomfort but apparently will suffer no permanent injury, occurred at 11:20 a. m. today. She answered her doorbell to find a shabbily dressed man, wearing blue glasses, on her porch.

"Are you Mrs. Tousley," he inquired.

She replied that she was.

"Damn it, take this," he shouted, and tossed a handful of cayenne in her eyes.

Rushed to Mills Memorial Hospital, where she was given emergency treatment, Mrs. Tousley was reported as resting easily this afternoon.

Police officers, meanwhile, were scouring the town for the man, who evidently was dressed in the shabby clothes in an effort to disguise himself.

Pederson, local jeweler and recent unsuccessful candidate for city councilman, and his daughter, Olga, were once convicted of keeping more than two Great Dane dogs at their home here, but the conviction was reversed in superior court on the grounds that the original complaint against Pederson failed to state the dogs were not puppies.

Pederson and his daughter were recently rearrested on the charge and demanded separate jury trials. Pederson, in the meantime, had filed a $10,000 damage suit against City Manager E. P. Wilsey and Mrs. Tousley charging malicious prosecution in connection with the other case.

Virden Meeting Set on May 17; May Be Stormy

Meeting of Virden stockholders to confirm sale of the South San Francisco plant to Armour & Co., originally scheduled for May 3, has been reset for May 17. Terms of the sale stipulate that principal assets of the firm, including the meat packing plant in South San Francisco, will be transferred for $250,000. The stockholder's meeting is scheduled for 10 a. m. in the Palace Hotel. Proxies have been forwarded by J. D. Thompson, secretary of the Virden company.

It was apparent today that a stormy session was in prospect. Alfred Steiner, South San Francisco stockholder, mailed a circular to all stockholders listing financial transactions between C. E. Virden, Virden Packing company, Pioneer Fruit Company, California Fruit Farms, and California Finance and Trading Corporation subject to question.

Officer Traps Pair in Store At San Mateo

Men Flee Into Bushes Of Church Yard And Disappear

SAN MATEO, April 29.—Two burglars who escaped from Police Officer Thomas McDaniels in a running gun battle at 2:30 a. m. were being sought by police today.

They were surprised in the act of attempting to blow open the safe in the Piggly Wiggly store in the heart of the business district a block from the police station when the officer, doing night patrol duty, spotted one of them in the store.

Trying the front door and finding it locked, McDaniels ran to the rear just in time to see two mendash out and start down the alley.

When the pair refused to halt, McDaniels opened fire on the men. They returned the gunfire, several shots being fired by the pair and the officer.

ESCAPE NEAR CHURCH

The duo escaped in the shrubbery of the St. Matthews Catholic Church, and though a clerk in a nearby store who had witnessed the battle had telephoned for other officers, who arrived shortly, no trace could be found of the men. This morning a searchlight and a suitcase, apparently dropped by the pair, were found in the shrubbery.

In front of the safe in the store officers found burglar tools, including a punch, sledgehammer, explosives and other equipment. In the suitcase was a long wire with a pushbutton on one end and a buzzer on the other and attached to a battery, which officers believed was to have been used by a lookout to sound a warning in case officers arrived. A rope ladder which the men had used to let themselves into the store also was found in the bag. Entrance to the store had been effected by the pair through a trap door on the roof.

MAY HAVE HIT ONE

Officer McDaniels said today he believed he may have hit one of the burglars in the battle, though rain falling at the time obliterated all traces of blood, if there were any.

Amount in the safe, which included Saturday afternoon receipts of the store, was not revealed by the store manager.

PENINSULA STORES PRESENTING SALE

Something new in the way of Good Housekeeping Sales on groceries is being sponsored this week, May 3 to 9, by the Peninsula Stores Ltd., local grocery organization, according to announcement made today by Don Murphy, sales manager.

In collaboration with the Good Housekeeping Magazine and in celebration of its 50th anniversary, the Peninsula Stores Ltd. will be the first grocery organization west of the Rocky Mountains to sponsor a Good Housekeeping Week in as comprehensive a manner as that now under way.

Before a manufacturer may secure the Institute's Seal of Approval his product must undergo the most rigid examination of leading chemists and a battery of food experts. In fact the magazine has to be sure that the merchandise is satisfactory in every way because of the magazine's merited prestige built up over a period of 30 years since the inception of the institute, and too, because it backs every item approved by itself with a guarantee.

Londergan Is Given Quentin Prison Term

Frank M. Londergan, found guilty last Friday by a jury of a statutory charge, was this Monday sentenced to San Quentin prison by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt.

Londergan, having admitted three prior convictions on robbery, larceny and receiving stolen property charges, faces a life term in the prison.

Other criminal cases were postponed to 9:30 a. m. tomorrow when court adjourned out of respect to the late J. C. Williamson.

San Jose Port Plans Speeded After Warning

McGrath Sees Present Opportunity Last Chance for Aid

San Jose port boosters today began preparation of a formal application for PWA funds to develop Port Alviso after receipt of a wire from Congressman John J. McGrath of San Mateo stating "this is probably the last opportunity of a lifetime to secure federal aid on the project."

Advising that "greater speed is necessary," McGrath said that "you will receive every assistance at this end."

In response to McGrath's wire, City Manager Clarence B. Goodwin of San Jose and the city's legal and engineering staffs began today the preparation of formal application for the federal loan and grant which will transform the southern end of San Francisco bay to mark the beginning of a new era in the development of the Santa Clara valley.

Authorization for San Jose to proceed immediately with the application was voted last night by the city council, confirming an agreement to that effect of two weeks previously.

Every effort will be made to expedite procedure, City Manager Goodwin pledged. Voluminous legal and engineering phases of the application will be handled by officials already familiar with the procedure. Possibly within a week, certainly within 10 days, Goodwin expects the application to be in the hands of A. D. Wilder, San Francisco PWA engineer.

DISTRICT OUTLINED

Aside from the decision to have the city proceed immediately with the application, yesterday was marked by two other notable developments bearing on the port project: Determination by the port committee of the chamber of commerce to proceed with the utmost dispatch in the organization of the port district, and establishment, by the same committee, of boundaries of the district.

This action was taken at a meeting at noon at the De Anza Hotel. Wilbur Hanning, chairman of the executive committee of the port committee, was empowered to proceed at once with the circulation of a petition to the board of supervisors, asking that an election be called to sanction organization of the district. The petition, requiring a minimum of 50 signatures of freeholders, Henning expects to have in the hands of the board in time for its meeting next Monday.

JUNE ELECTION EXPECTED

The chamber of commerce committee is proceeding on the expectation that the election will be called not later than the month of June.

As determined by the port committee yesterday, the port district will be roughly, "Y" shaped, the two arms embracing the water front area around the southern extremity of the bay, including Alviso, and extending south to include Santa Clara, San Jose and Willow Glen. Palo Alto, Mountain View and Sunnyvale are not included in the district.

Probation Is Given 19-Year-Old Jockey

Morris Kendall, 19-year-old jockey who pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile, was on Tuesday granted a year's probation on the charge by Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt. A condition of the probation was that he serve 30 days in the county jail. He was given credit for time served while waiting disposition of his case, which had been 30 days, so he was allowed to go free.

Melvin Gunderson and Frederick Hoppe, burglar suspects, were given a week to plead when they appeared before Judge McNutt.

Menifee Puts Out Fire in Building

Attorney Norman Menifee put out what might have proved a serious fire in the Andrew building here late Tuesday. He saw smoke emerging from a store room in the upper hallway and opened the door to find an electric motor on fire.

Menifee put out the fire single-handed.

Miss Miller to Conduct Classes Informally at Cooking Sessions

Next week The Tribune brings to the housewives of Redwood City its much heralded cooking school will be held in the McKinley School auditorium on May 7 to 10 from 2 to 4 o'clock each afternoon.

MISS MILLER

Miss Barbara Miller, the famed home economist who will conduct the school, writes that the classes will be conducted in an informal manner—nothing is to be of a technical nature.

Miss Miller says that cooking is a real art and that if a housewife attacks her task with a spirit of dread, her work is bound to be poor—if she feels the thrill and intriguing capacity of cooking, her meals will be much better and she will get a great deal more enjoyment out of preparing them.

Women, to whom cooking seems an enjoyment and who get their meals in such a short time, are usually those who take time to plan out their menus and shop wisely for days ahead of time, according to Miss Miller, and she will tell the housewives of Redwood City just how they may do this—and thus find more joy and happiness in the kitchen.

Proper seasoning and flavoring is one point which Miss Miller particularly stresses. Here are a few pointers which she suggests:

"Try a dash of onion salt in the white sauce used with macaroni and cheese. Put a bay leaf in the veal stew, curry in the lamb.

"Onion salt in the scalloped potatoes gives them a tricky flavor and paprika is the handy help of every salad.

"Salad dressings call for spice without end. And consider the range of cinnamon rolls and hot breads, together with the savories of sauces—what an inspiration is the spice box!

"What a difference in the intrigue of a meal if the spaghetti has a bit of garlic salt and a sprinkle of clove stirred in with its other seasonings."

Miss Miller invites Redwood City housewives to bring their kitchen problems to the cooking school to have them all ironed out. Perhaps it is a problem of budgeting, or keeping cakes from Falling, or putting up the children's lunches, or shopping for the emergency shelf—no matter what the particular problem, Miss Miller wants to help solve it and smooth out the way for more "Happy Kitchens."

There will be instruction and entertainment at the cooking school—and a lot of free prizes. You will want to be sure and attend each of the four sessions. Make your plans now!

RING AROUND TUB RIDDLE IS SOLVED

Science has contributed another aid to the housewife by eliminating the ring around the bathtub.

This age-old riddle also has been solved to the satisfaction of Junior who is usually blamed for the decorations, as it isn't dirt that causes the ring, it's the combination of hard water and soap.

The part science plays is with the new automatic electric water softener which removes impurities and minerals from hard water, according to the Good Housekeeping store, local dealers for the Permutit Water Softening equipment.

Water softeners save a family of four in moderate circumstances $117.20 a year investigations have disclosed. Savings on laundry alone amount to $50, on plumbing $25, on fods $32.20 and soap $11.

CHINA RICE SALE WILL BE PUSHED

Number One Brand China Rice will be introduced to the public in a large newspaper advertising campaign, announces the China Rice Importing Cobpany of San Francisco.

For the past 50 years, the associates of this firm have been importing this high quality rice from the Canton district of China, for sale to discriminating trade in wholesale markets. Under the trade name, it is now being marketed in packages, making it available to the general public for the first time.

Mr. William Morgan, president, states that the advertising campaign will stress the appetizing and nutritive qualities of Number One Brand rice, which, he says, cooks into separate kernels when prepared according to directions. He also states that because it is not polished, it is rich in food value, containing practically every element the body needs.

This unique structure is to be a great golden shell, nearly sixty feet high, with spacious offices inside which will be headquarters for information about the exposition and the West. Shell Oil Company officials say thousands of exposition visitors will be supplied free road maps and travel information to enable them to visit many other cities and scenic areas while in the West.

SULLIVAN DEATH DATE SET JULY 11

Youth Captured Here to Pay With Life in Gas Chamber

Jack Sullivan, 22, Colorado exconvict who was captured in Redwood City by Police Chief C. L. Collins and Sergt. Stanley Wood, was to be taken to the Arizona state prison at Florence Monday there to be put to death in the lethal gas chamber July 11 for murdering John Bradberry, former Greenleaf county sheriff, the United Press reported.

Sullivan, who was denied a new trial by Superior Judge John W. Ross, heard the death sentence without apparent emotion. Judge Ross pronounced the sentence after a jury failed to recommend mercy.

The condemned man was convicted of shooting Bradberry March 13 when the former sheriff, then employed as a railroad detective, and a federal immigration inspector sought to search a group of transients at Bowie.

Sullivan at one time lived here with his sister and brother-in-law, working as a painter. When he returned here the latter part of March, he was arrested by the local officers.

'Crime' Again Holds Toastmaster Interest

Crime again held first place as the topic of speeches at the Redwood City Toastmasters Club at the meeting on Monday evening.

Don Bogie spoke on "Causes of Crime" in which he pointed out as chief of these the broken home, wrong use of leisure, poor ideals, poor courts and lawyers, and reformatories which did not reform. Roy A. Hohberger chose as his subject "Who Pays for Crime?" bringing out that every member of society suffers when a crime is committed, some to a greater degree than others.

Andrew Spinas talked on "Pulling In Our Horns," in which he suggested a way to keep out of war: offering no credit to belligerents and demanding that they use their own ships in getting supplies from the United States.

In a 10-minute talk Perry Bydgness told of "The Rise of Huey Long as a National Figure."

Jules Lutje acted as toastmaster and Earl Whitaker as critic. Virgil Anderson gave constructive criticism of the speeches as the last number on the program.

Four hundred thousand Americans are regularly engaged in crime, according to estimates.

Slot Machines And Operators Taken in Raid

McGrath Leads Forces In Quiet Visits Over County

In a raid which extended from the north to the south ends of the county, sheriff's officers late Monday seized seven coin gambling devices, arrested three tavern proprietors and swore out warrants for arrests of two others, who were "out" when the raid occurred.

Sheriff James J. McGrath, Undersheriff Lawrence Nieri and Deputy Sheriff Tom Maloney led in the raid, which began in Brisbane where "The Cave" was entered and two slot machines seized. The proprietor, Jesse Cabral, 28, was arrested.

Two other Brisbane taverns, the "Happy Beer Garden" and "Andy's Pool Hall" were then entered, and two machines confiscated at the first place and one at the latter. Proprietors of both were not in.

Striking next at an inn in Belmont, the officers arrested Alfred Perry, 38, and took his slot machine.

BOOKED AT JAIL

Then traveling to East Palo Alto, the tavern of A. R. Spaulding, 52, on the Belle Haven tract was entered and another machine seized and the proprietor arrested.

All the men were booked at the county jail on charges of violating Section 330a of the penal code, which is the state law relating to gambling machines.

Cabral was released on $100 bail to appear before Justice of the Peace Wade H. Clay; Spalding was freed on $200 property bond pending his hearing before Judge Edward I. McAuliffe, while Berry was released on $100 cash bail to appear before Justice Richard E. O'Farrell.

Six of the machines seized were ordinary five-cent slot machines, while one was a "Pok-O-Reel" device.

John Willard, Law Librarian, Stricken Here

Heart Attack Is Fatal As He Converses With Family

Stricken with a heart attack a few minutes after he had retired for the night and while he was still conversing with his family, John David Willard, 59, law librarian in the county courthouse, and former partner of District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell, died suddenly at 9:30 Monday.

Mr. Willard, who had a varied career as a lawyer before a stroke of apoplexy struck him during a jury trial in San Francisco in 1925, had become a familiar courthouse figure in the three years he had held the librarian's position, and was well-known in Redwood City and throughout the county. His home here was on Hopkins avenue.

Surviving Mr. Willard are his wife, Theodora Holly Willard; two sons, John and David, both of this city, and a daughter, Mrs. Dorothea Hansen of Palo Alto.

NATIVE OF NEBRASKA

Born in Nebraska in 1876, Mr Willard received his education there and was admitted to the bar in that state, where he practiced until 1898, when he went to the Hawaiian Islands, becoming an assistant under the United States attorney general. In 1905 he came to California and to familiarize himself with California law entered Stanford University.

There he became acquainted with Ferrell, the late Judge Franklin Swart and Edward J. McGovern. Upon graduation of the four they formed a law partnership of Willard, Swart, Ferrell and McGovern to practice law in San Francisco.

In 1910 Swart was elected county district attorney and dropped out of the partnership. McGovern died a short time later, and for some time Willard and Ferrell practiced in San Francisco. While he was trying a case before the late Judge Bernard J. Flood, Mr. Willard was stricken in court with apoplexy, and for several years was incapacitated, but through a strenuous discipline partially recovered and was named county law librarian.

RAN FOR ASSEMBLY

In 1916 Willard was an unsuccessful candidate for the assembly. After securing a huge majority in the primary election, he was defeated by Frank Eksward. As the result of his defeat, according to several friends, a law was passed in the assembly making it mandatory upon a candidate to receive the nomination of his own party before he can campaign under another political party's banner. Eksward had run as a Republican and Democrat, and was defeated under his own banner by Willard, but in the general general election as a Democrat and won.

A member of the San Mateo County Bar Association, Mr. Willard was honored at noon today when members of the organization met in Superior Judge McNutt's court, with President J. E. McCurry presiding, and paid him solemn tribute.

Funeral services have been tentatively set for Thursday at 11 a. m. from the Roller and Hapgood parlors in Palo Alto.

George Best, Pioneer Of County, Succumbs

BURLINGAME, Apr. 30.—George W. Best, 85, who knew Burlingame back in the days it was a mere village, was dead here today.

A familiar county figure in 1906 when he was a deputy constable and extra policeman, Best became well known on the peninsula.

HETCHY WATER ATHERTON GOAL

Council Favors Limited District For Securing Mountain Supply

ATHERTON, April 30 (Special to the Tribune)—Atherton residents want a purer supply of drinking water—preferably, the clear, non-corrosive fluid that comes from the High Sierra country through the Hetch Hetchy viaduct.

But—

Atherton's city council unofficially believes the best interests of the town will be served by forming its own water district rather than by joining other peninsula municipalities in the creation of an all-embracing San Mateo county district.

Councilman James B. Howell opened the way for this exchange of views at yesterday's meeting of the town's governing body when he disclosed that the federal government has indicated it will loan San Mateo county $1,500,000 on an income bond basis as the first step in the creation of such a district.

A county bond issue of $5,000,000, he said, would be necessary to complete the distribution system which would reduce water bills approximately 33 1-3 per cent and result in an industrial water rate of 10 cents, comparing favorably with similar industrial rates offered by Los Angeles.

Under the organic act, he pointed out, the proposed San Mateo County Water District would be governed by an elective body—separate in authority from the board of supervisors.

Councilman Clarence R. Walters pointed out that Atherton and the surrounding area have a natural water district and, because of the close proximity of the Hetch Hetchy main line to the city limits, it would be proper and feasible to organize a separate water district.

The council at yesterday's meeting approved the final report of the city planning commission on an amendment to Ordinance 45 pertaining to new setback lines on El Camino Real. A resolution authorizing publication of the amendment ordinance was passed.

Broadcasts on an airway usually are made by sets of three stations, consisting of two terminal stations and an intermediate station. An intermediate station broadcasts five minutes before or after the two terminals.

Most planes now in use have cruising speed of at least 100 miles an hour.

LOCAL BOY, 5, DIES OF SHORT ILLNESS

Funeral Rites Held This Morning For Robert R. Farrell

Following a brief illness, Robert R. Farrell, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Farrell, 511 Alden street, passed away Saturday afternoon at a San Mateo hospital. The child, who is survived by a brother, Richard, his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Charles Wolfe of Menlo Park, and his paternal grandfather, John Farrell of this city, was born in Palo Alto.

Anton B. Dorkewitz of Charleston, S. C., who learned watch-making as a youthful apprentice in Germany, has been working at his trade for 5 years without interruption.

Law Group Will Fete Whittier

Stanford Professor to Be Banquet Guest

Completes 25 Years As Teacher

The annual banquet of the Stanford Law Society will be in the Gold Ballroom of the Palace Hotel on Friday, May 3, in honor of Prof. Clarke B. Whittier of Menlo Park, who is just completing his 25th year as a teacher of law at Stanford University.

It is the custom of the Stanford ford Law Society to hold an annual banquet in the spring of each year. The gathering on this occasion is staged by the Northern Division of the Society.

Clarke B. Whittier went to Stanford to teach law in 1897. He remained at the Stanford Law School until 1902 when he went to the University of Chicago to assist in the founding of the law school there. In that enterprise he had as his colleagues Joseph Henry Beale now of the Harvard law faculty; Julian Mack, now federal judge in New York; Floyd R. Mechem, author on Agency; Ernst Freund, author on Administrative Law, and James Parker Hall, author on Constitutional Law.

In 1909 and 1910 he assisted in the revision of the Illinois Statutory Law on Pleading.

In 1915 Mr. Whittier returned to Stanford University to teach law and he has been on the law faculty ever since.

Mr. Whittier is particularly known as an authority on Contracts and Evidence. In collaboration with E. M. Morgan of Harvard he has published a case book on Common Law Pleading.

Among the former students of Professor Whittier, both at Stanford and at Chicago, are the following: Harold L. Ickes, secretary of the interior; George T. McDermott, judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals at Topeka, Kas.; George Rossman, judge of the supreme court of the state of Oregon; Harold Shepherd, dean of the University of Washing Law School; William H. Leary, Dean of the law school at the University of Utah; Arnold Bennett Hall, president of Brookings Institution; Herman E. Oliphant, counsel for the treasury department; Jerome N. Frank, formerly chief counsel of the agricultural adjustment administration, and author of "Law and the Modern Mind."

Five members of the Stanford law faculty were also former students of Professor Whittier: Joseph Walter Bingham, Chester G. Vernier, James E. Brenner, Harry J. Rathbun, Leonard S. Lyon.

"All Stanford lawyers are invited to attend this banquet," says Winston Churchill Black, chairman of the committee on arrangements. "Invitations are also out to friends of Mr. Whittier who desire to join with us to honor him on this occasion. Those who cannot attend are invited to write Mr. Whittier their congratulations in care of the society."

Reservations and communications should go to Robert Littler of Redwood City, secretary of the society, at No. 1 Montgomery street, San Francisco.

Ruth Turner Heads San Francisco Relief

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1 (UP)—Miss Ruth Turner, a member of the city relief advisory committee, assumed active direction of relief activities in San Francisco succeeding Paul H. Davis.

Davis resigned after having held the post of San Francisco relief director longer than any one else. He was on the job seven months, serving under four state relief administrators.

The former Stanford business manager announced that he was resigning "due to differences of opinion as to administration policies of operating relief."

Meanwhile subordinates in the administration continued an investigation of the alleged diversion of SERA wood to private interest. No arrests have been made, although several have been threatened.

Motor Car Dealers Will Hold Banquet

Announcement was made today by Elmer J. Keough, president of the San Mateo County Motor Car Dealers' Association, of a banquet to be held on the evening of Friday, May 3, at the Bungalow Inn, at Millbrae.

This event will be attended by all the county dealers and their sales personnel, and is being held in celebration of the new spring models and the unprecedented reception of buying by the public.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Thomas F. Kilmartin, code commissioner for Northern California for the retail motor vehicle industry, and a special item of interest will be the showing of sound motion pictures depicting the operation of the dealers used car price code.

Third Death Results From Triple Shooting

Atherton Holds Meet On El Camino Zoning

Following the request of Col. John H. Skeggs, district engineer for the state highway division, the Atherton City Planning Commission on Monday held its first hearing on its ordinance amendment for the immediate establishment of setback lines conforming with the right of way for the proposed widening of El Camino Real.

After the tentative reports were read and filed, City Engineer James S. James outlined the right of way strip to be acquired by the state. A number of interested citizens attended the meeting including E. T. Patterson, represent-

WHISKERS SPROUT But Have No Fears! IT'S CAMPUS DAY

If you see whiskers sprouting on very youthful young men in Redwood City in the next few days, don't feel alarmed and think this younger generation is degenerating. Far be it from that! It is only the annual beard growing contest which got underway Monday at the school in preparation for the annual Campus Day May 10.

Youngsters fortunate enough to have enough "brush" to participate in the contest came to school clean shaven, but from now on a daily massage of hair tonic will take the place of the shaving brush.

At the Campus Day, on top of the whiskerino, gypsy costumes will be worn by both men and women at the school. Oh me!

Object of the day is the annual cleanup. With girls working inside the building and boys outside between 9:30 and 12, officials are hopeful of "great things." Reward for the students will be a cafeteria feed at noon, followed by an afternoon of play and games. Topping off the event will be a dance in the evening.

School commissioners, headed by Welfare Commissioner Ralph Rheda, form the committee in charge of the event, which is participated in by all students.

ing Menlo Junior College.

Alfred S. Kay, president of the planning commission, preside over the meeting. The ordinance was to be laid before the town council at its meeting late today.

Tribute Paid To Williamson

Coast Merchant Laid To Rest As Courts, Board Adjourn

With superior court and the board of supervisors meeting adjourned out of respect to his memory, Josiah C. ("Si") Williamson was buried on Monday in the Pescadero cemetery as a host of friends of the 84-year-old pioneer paid him honor.

The coastside pioneer, old time American merchant, died Friday night after a short illness. In spite of his advanced age, he was actively interested in community affairs and apparently in good health until a week ago, when he City.

became ill after a trip to Redwood

Born in Massachusetts, a descendant of John Alden, early Pilgrim and character in one of Longfellow's great poems, Williamson sailed aboard a schooner around the horn in 1869, landing in San Francisco. He went at once to Pescadero, where he worked on ranches and later in a store, going into business for himself in 1885.

At the time of his death, Williamson was president of the Pescadero high school board of trustees. He had been a member of the Odd Fellows lodge, Pescadero branch, for 60 years.

Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt, in adjourning his court today upon motion of Attorney Joseph J. Bullock, said: "In granting this motion I do so with respect to him as a judicial officer and as a man. I knew him since boyhood. He had been a respected figure in the county and state. He was one of the last few old-time American merchants."

Surviving Williamson are his daughter, Mrs. Walter H. Moore, and a son, Frank G. Williamson, with whom he was engaged in business in Pescadero.

Have mercy on your stomach

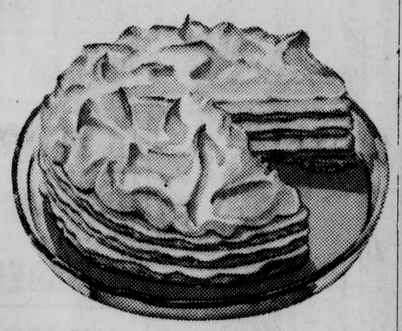
Cook with CRISCO—it digests quickly

You don't need to take the joy out of eating in order to protect your digestion. You can gladly say "yes" to wholesome Crisco pies and crispy Crisco-fried foods! Yes, they can be good for you—because Crisco is the digestible vegetable shortening that doesn't over-burden your stomach.

Most every day something is fried in your house. Is it grease-soaked and hard to digest—or is it brown and crispy the way Crisco-fried foods are? Crisco can be heated higher—so it seals food quickly in toasty brown—which prevents fat from soaking into the food. That's why Crisco-fried foods digest quickly!

But let your common sense tell you. Look at Crisco—see how it piles up like thick country cream on a spoon! Taste its sweetness. Why, there's nothing like Crisco, because Crisco is made from digestible vegetable oils by its own secret process!

When you buy Crisco, look for the familiar blue-and-white label. Crisco's vacuum-sealed can is a health-protection to you.



CORONATION BUTTERSCOTCH PIE
(a pie that doesn't look like a pie—it has 3 layers like a cake)

The Filling:

2 tablespoons Crisco
½ cup flour
3 egg yolks, lightly beaten
1¼ cups brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk (hot)

To make filling—Mix sugar, flour, and salt. Add milk and cook until mixture thickens. Just before removing from stove stir in beaten yolks and Crisco. Let stand while preparing delicious sweet-tasting Crisco pastry.

Digestible Crisco Pastry

2 cups flour
⅔ cup Crisco
¾ teaspoon salt
ice-cold water

To make pastry—Sift flour and salt. Cut in Crisco with two knives until the size of peas. Add water (6 to 8 tablespoons) enough to hold dry ingredients together. Divide the dough into 3 parts and roll each out to a sheet. Cut into rounds, 8 or 9 inches in diameter. Place separately on baking sheets, pricking each well. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) until delicately brown. Put pie together like layer cake, with filling on top also. Cover with meringue made by beating 3 egg whites thoroughly with 6 tablespoons sugar. Brown slightly in slow oven (325°F.). Serve as soon as cool.

Crisco is the registered trade-mark of a shortening manufactured by The Procter & Gamble Co.

CRISCO Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.
digests quickly

At the Tribune Cooking School conducted next week in the McKinley School Auditorium, Miss Barbara Miller uses and recommends CRISCO, the modern, quick-digesting shortening.

$40,000 HARTLEY TRUST BROKEN AFTER HEARINGS

Judge Dooling of Hollister Finds Educator Was Mentally Weakened in 1928 When Agreement Executed

Legal efforts of Dollie and Birdie Bacon of Redwood City, and J. B. Bacon of Windsor, Alameda county, to break the $40,000 trust of their late cousin, Mrs. Jennie E. Hartley, early-day peninsula educator, ended successfully today.

Superior Judge Maurice T. Dooling Jr., of Hollister, sitting here, signed a decree breaking the trust entered into on July 3, 1928, and which was left to Stanford University's eventual use for two yearly scholarships.

The judgment also ordered Carl E. Wagner, former branch bank manager here, to pay $9,700 to the Hartley estate for moneys borrowed before Mrs. Hartley's death.

Breaking of the trust cuts Wagner's children off from the income which Mrs. Hartley designated was to be used to educate his two small children during their youth. It was stipulated by Wagner's counsel, Edmund Scott, that the $9,700 judgment could be entered against him.

Herbert Erskine, on behalf of the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Association, at a conference in superior court chambers here late yesterday, agreed by stipulation that the trust should be broken.

TO RELINQUISH ASSETS

The bank, which held an estimated $40,000 of property in the trust, was directed to pay the assets over to Attorney Richard Barrett, special administrator of the Hartley estate, for distribution to the heirs.

The victorious fight by the Bacon heirs was begun on September 6, 1932, when the trust was attacked on the ground that Mrs. Hartley was of unsound mind and allegedly was under the influence of Wagner.

JUDGE GIVES VIEWS

Judge Dooling found that Mrs. Hartley "was not a person entirely without understanding" on July 3, 1928, or on February 17, 1929, the dates when the trust agreement and amendment were executed.

"I carried away the opinion from the trial," Judge Dooling wrote in his opinion, "that while mentally weakened, Mrs. Hartley had sufficient mentality to understand the nature of the trust agreement, the value of her property and the objects of her bounty."

"That opinion," he said, "is unchanged after reading the briefs and reviewing the testimony."

Judge Dooling found that while Mrs. Hartley was "not entirely without understanding" she was "failing mentally and easily subject to suggestion."

INTERESTED PARTIES

Interested in the litigation besides the Bacon sisters and their Alameda county cousin is Sidney Williams, foster son, formerly of Oregon but now of Redwood City. It was reported in October, 1934, that he would share in one-fourth of the estate.

Others, who had been named in cash bequests to be paid from the trust upon Mrs. Hartley's death, and the amounts they were to receive, were:

W. O. Hartley, $6,000; Marvin and Lydia Benson of Los Angeles, $5,000; Emelie Kelting, Redwood City, $3,000; Alma Haaker, San Francisco, $2,000; Emma Haaker, San Francisco, $1,000; Etta Lueger, Redwood City, $1,000; Richard Barrett Jr., $1,000, and Ellen Gibson, San Mateo, $800.

PIONEER EDUCATOR

In Mrs. Hartley's trust, Birdie and Dollie Bacon were cut off with $1,500 each, while Bacon and his wife, Margaret, were left $2,000 each, or a total of $7,000 of the estimated $65,000 estate at that time.

Mrs. Hartley began her teaching career at Purissima in one of the first schools to be established in San Mateo county. In 1870, she met and married G. P. Hartley of New York. They taught school at Half Moon Bay and Redwood City, and Mr. Hartley was county superintendent of schools in San Mateo county for 11 years before his death.

The death of Mrs. Hartley occurred on August 29.

Barrett & Barrett and Treat & Ogden represented the heirs.

DENIALS MADE BY MILLINGTON

Dissolution of Writ Halting Vote Sought by Attorney

Entering a general denial to allegations contained in the complaint of J. B. Haffen seeking to halt the proposed charter change election, Attorney Wayne Millington today filed an answer to the Haffen petition on behalf of County Clerk E. B. Hinman.

"Neither the complaint nor the counts therein state a cause of action against this defendant," Millington's answer today declared, asking that the court dissolve the temporary injunction now in effect halting the election.

Haffen had cited as reasons why the board of supervisors should not call the election:

1. Amendments on the petition were not set forth in full.
2. That the petitions did not show what charter was to be amended.
3. That the petitions did not have sufficient valid signatures.
4. That the petitions were not examined personally by the county clerk or an authorized deputy.

The petitions sought to abolish the $6,000-a-year job of County Executive Walter Kellogg, substituting for it a $4,800 position of administrative officer, and return appointive officials to an elective status.

SHOALS SELECTED BY SUPERVISORS

Blasting hopes of Mills Field Fair Site proponents for use of the airport for the 1938 World's Fair, the San Francisco Board of Supervisors Monday, by a 6-4 vote, approved Yerba Buena shoals as location of the proposed exposition.

The vote came after prolonged filibustering, led by Supervisor Andrew Gallagher, who moved for reconsideration at next Monday's board meeting.

While this action made the board's vote meaningless, since final action cannot come until after the Thursday election, it was felt that the board's action and the "stampede" that is on for the shoals would eliminate any possibility of consideration of the San Mateo county site near South San Francisco.

Merriam Takes Tax Problems To People in San Mateo Talk

Declaring his tax program was based entirely on the absolute needs of the state, Governor Merriam told 150 county officials and civic leaders at the banquet in San Mateo Saturday night that no taxation scheme ever met popular favor and that he wasn't surprised when his didn't.

Since his program affects everybody, the Governor said, he felt it would make people think in the future before voting bond issues and taking on more governmental expenses.

He cited figures to show that heavy taxes called for in his recommendations were due to the fact that the state has lost 142 million dollars in revenue during the past two years—80 million when the school burden was switched to the state and 62 million when utility taxes were returned to the counties.

That the state faces a deficit for the next two years of 96 million dollars was also revealed by the governor, who declared that he had no control over a large part of the expenses of the state A total of 119 million dollars is for special fixed funds, he said; 158 millions go back to the counties, with the state acting merely as a collector, and 16 millions is for interest on state bonds. General state expenses total only 47 million dollars, he said.

Included at the speaker's table were Mayor Charles Lambert of Redwood City, Superior Judges McNutt and Cotton, County School Superintendent Pansy Abbott, and a number of other well-known county residents.

Following the banquet, Governor Merriam presented David McCullough, San Mateo civic leader and veteran, with the annual community service award given by the Burlingame Advance-Star and San Mateo-Burlingame Lions Club. The ceremony was held in the Junior College auditorium in San Mateo.

Given Study of Recreation Body Sera Supervised Play Projects

Following lengthy discussion at Monday afternoon's meeting, the recreation commission asked A. H. C. Stoops, member of the board of state recreation programs; Robert Simcock, Burlingame Y. M. C. A. leader, and E. P. Wilsey, San Mateo city manager, to prepare a plan for SERA projects for supervised recreation in the county, submitting the proposals to the commission at its May 13 meeting.

The projects would be located on schoolgrounds outside city limits, and would be in charge of Y. M. C. A. leaders, who would train other men to supervise the play of youngsters.

When the plans are submitted, the commission will approve them if satisfactory for presentation to SERA officials, it was decided.

A general consideration of recreation for the summer months was held by the commission. Stoops, Wilsey and Simcock are also making plans for recreational facilities inside the cities of Burlingame, San Mateo and Hillsborough, it was reported.

Improvements in Memorial Park recreation facilities were described by Park Superintendent C. H. Jensen.

Mrs. Sophie Root, secretary of the commission, reported that former Supervisor Thomas Hickey had donated $5 for the Judge Franklin Swart memorial, and that this combined with a similar offer from the Redwood City Exchange Club and a $1 contribution made by an unnamed individual to The Tribune made a total of $11 pledged for the project. Much interest is manifested in the memorial, Mrs. Root reported.

Farmers are expected to consume an output of farm implements valued at $250,000,000 in 1935, compared with $170,000,000 in 1934, forecasters quoted by the American Iron and Steel institute say.

OFFICIALS SCAN HUDDART ESTATE

Herbert Fleishhacker, president of the San Francisco Park Commission, and Superintendent of Parks John McLaren have just made the first cursory examination of the tract of 973 acres of land on the Skyline boulevard and on the Kings Mountain road west of Woodside, recently given to San Francisco as a park, by the terms of the will of the late James M. Huddart.

Soon the property will be given a thorough examination by the park engineering and planning forces. The water supply, the lay of the land, and the uses to which the tract can be put will be studied and made the basis of a complete report. The city has three years in which to make its decision.

"As yet I am not in a position to say much about the tract," said Fleishhacker. Without committing himself about this property, he added:

"More than ever I am convinced the time has come for San Francisco to extend its park system into San Mateo county. The parks in San Francisco will have increasing use, always, by the host of people who want recreation near by.
